

SEPTEMBER 1987

LEVEL
ONE

Center for Slavic and East European Studies

Newsletter

361 Stephens Hall
University of California
Berkeley, CA 94720
642-3230

Editor: Anne Hawkins 642-9107

PROCESSED

JUN 08 2006

STU LIBRARY

NOTES FROM THE CHAIR

A very warm welcome to all friends of the Center, both on and off campus, and a special greeting to all newcomers to Berkeley's Slavic and East European Program! We wish you the very best for a stimulating and satisfying academic year; we will do all we can to provide a broad array of interdisciplinary activities, facilities, and resources toward that end.

Let me take this opportunity to introduce you to the resources available, and to alert new and continuing students alike to the exciting plans for this year.

The Center sponsors a regular bag lunch program, lectures by visiting and resident scholars, a film series at the Pacific Film Archive, and conferences on various themes. Our library, in the reading room of the Institute of International Studies Library, 340 Stephens Hall, holds recent and current issues of more than one hundred Soviet and East European newspapers and journals, Western scholarly publications, and emigre periodicals on the area. In our offices in 361 Stephens, we maintain files on research assistantships, fellowships, professional employment opportunities, and study/travel programs. The Center's staff welcomes your questions about any aspect of Slavic and East European studies at Berkeley. The Executive Director of the Berkeley-Stanford Program on Soviet International Behavior, Dr. Richard Remnek, has an office in 361 Stephens and can answer all questions pertaining to that innovative and lively program.

To publicize news pertaining to the study of the Slavic/East European area, the Center publishes this monthly Newsletter, which is supplemented by a monthly Calendar Update, and sends out announcements of special events. Anyone who wishes to receive our mailings, or to provide information for the Newsletter, should contact the Center office. We particularly urge new graduate students to come by and sign up for our mailing list and graduate student registry, to learn about the Certificate in Russian and East European Studies, and to keep abreast of the rich array of activities and opportunities available through the Center. Please feel welcome to use our library, take advantage of the coffee, tea, and cookies in the Graduate Student Lounge one floor above, and stop by our bulletin board to learn of recent events.

In addition to these continuing activities, the coming academic year promises new sources of intellectual stimulation. As is elaborated at greater length inside this issue of the Newsletter, many visiting scholars will be in residence at Berkeley for one or both semesters: Galia Diment, Michael Gelb, Alexander Golitzin, Attila Harmathy, Jonathan Haslam, Celia Hawkesworth, Liza Knapp. Many of these visitors will be teaching, and we invite you to benefit from the unusual range of expertise they have to offer.

We are also delighted to welcome two recent additions to Berkeley's Slavic-area faculty: Richard Taruskin (Music) and Alan Timberlake (Slavic Languages and Literatures). Scholars of international repute, Professors Taruskin and Timberlake expand still further the range of expertise regularly available among area faculty.

I look forward to seeing old friends and to making new ones at the Center reception on September 25. Please note that this year the reception will be held at Alumni House.

George W. Breslauer Chair of the Center

NEW APPOINTMENT IN THE SLAVIC DEPARTMENT

Join us in extending a warm welcome to Professor Alan Timberlake, a noted scholar in the field of linguistics, who has been appointed professor in the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures. He comes to Berkeley from the University of California at Los Angeles, where he served as Chair of the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures from 1984-1987.

Professor Timberlake earned his Ph.D. in Linguistics from Harvard University in 1973. His research interests include the history of the Russian language, comparative Slavic linguistics, Balto-Slavic linguistics, and Old Church Slavic. The author of The Objective Nominative, Dr. Timberlake has published extensively in scholarly journals and collections. His appointment adds further depth to the already superb faculty in Slavic Studies at UCB. Dr. Timberlake will be on sabbatical in the Fall semester.

SLAVIC CENTER WELCOMES DR. JONATHAN HASLAM

Dr. Jonathan Haslam will be both a Visiting Research Scholar with the Berkeley-Stanford Program on Soviet International Behavior and a Visiting Associate Professor in the Political Science Department during the 1987-1988 academic year. Professor Haslam is completing a volume on Soviet Far Eastern policy from 1933 to 1941 and starting a new project on Soviet policy toward Japan since World War II.

Educated at the London School of Economics, Trinity College, Cambridge, and the University of Birmingham, he taught as a Lecturer in Soviet diplomatic history at The University of Birmingham from 1975 to 1984. He also served as associate professor of Soviet Studies at the Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies from 1984 to 1986, and as visiting associate professor of History at Stanford University during the past academic year. Dr. Haslam is a Fellow of the Royal Historical Society and the author of Soviet Foreign Policy 1930-33: the Impact of the Depression (1983) and The Soviet Union and the Struggle for Collective Security in Europe 1933-39 (1984). He has just completed The Soviet Union and the Politics of the Arms Race In Europe 1969-87, to be published by MacMillan (London) in 1988.

WEST COAST PREMIERE OF NEW SOVIET FILM

On Wednesday, September 9, at Wheeler Auditorium, the Pacific Film Archive will present the West Coast premiere of REPENTANCE (Pokoyanie). Directed by Tengiz Abuladze, the film is one of the most important recent releases in the Soviet Union and received a Special Jury prize at this year's Cannes Film Festival. Director Abuladze will speak following the premiere screening, which begins at 7:30 in Wheeler Auditorium on the UCB campus. Tickets may be purchased at the door for $4.25.

In REPENTANCE Abuladze portrays the life and death of a petty dictator (perhaps modeled on Lavrenti Beria, the head of Stalin's Secret Police), whose descendants must come to terms with his legacy of terror. A darkly comic piece, it is one of the first films released in the U.S.S.R. to treat openly the theme of Stalinism and the Great Terror of the 1930s.

REPENTANCE is the third film in a trilogy begun by MOLBA (The Prayer, 1968) and followed by THE WISHING TREE (Drevo zhelanija, 1977). MOLBA, THE WISHING TREE, and two other Abuladze films will be shown at the Pacific Film Archive, 2625 Durant Avenue, in early September. See the calendar for dates and screening times.

NEWS FROM THE BERKELEY STANFORD PROGRAM
ON SOVIET INTERNATIONAL BEHAVIOR

To all new and returning student members of the Berkeley-Stanford Program on Soviet International Behavior: Welcome!

The year ahead promises to be an exciting one. Entering the Political Science Department at Berkeley are seven students with primary or secondary interests in Soviet and East European studies, and two political science students are entering Stanford with primary interests in Soviet affairs. Several new students hold advanced and professional degrees from UCLA, USC, Harvard, Georgetown, and the Johns Hopkins School for Advanced International Studies. Two entering students are the recipients of prestigious National Science Foundation and Social Science Research Council multi-year graduate training fellowships.

This past summer has been intellectually stimulating and rewarding for returning students. For example: Jim Goldgeier and Jason MacDonald studied Russian in the CIEE program in Leningrad; Gavin Helf worked as a summer intern at Radio Liberty (Munich), where he compiled and analyzed biographic data on CPSU regional party secretaries; and Clay Moltz conducted dissertation research on U.S. and Soviet space programs while serving as an intern at the Defense Department's Office of Net Assessment.

The Berkeley Stanford-Program is also pleased to welcome three visiting fellows: Jonathan Haslam will be Visiting Associate Professor of Political Science (see his biography in this newsletter); Franklyn Griffiths, of the University of Toronto, will be teaching graduate and undergraduate courses on Soviet foreign policy at Stanford, and Christer Jonsson, who is visiting Stanford from Sweden, will teach a graduate seminar in the Winter quarter on superpower relations.

Seweryn Bialer and Robert Legvold, both of Columbia University, Sheila Fitzpatrick, University of Texas, and Thane Gustafson, Georgetown University, have accepted invitations to visit the Berkeley-Stanford Program. In addition, the Berkeley students will present a weekly colloquium on Thursdays at 4:00 pm in 442 Stephens, which will get underway on September 10 with a review of recent changes in Soviet political life. Short presentations by Professor Gail Lapidus, Jim Goldgeier and Jason MacDonald, all of whom visited the Soviet Union this summer, will be featured.

The Berkeley-Stanford Program is pleased to announce that the proceedings of the April, 1987, conference on "Reforming Socialist Systems: The Chinese and Soviet Experiences," co-sponsored by the Berkeley Slavic Center and the Stanford Center For Russian and East European Studies, will soon be published. A few copies will be available at cost through the Berkeley Slavic Center.

Richard Remnek Executive Director

POPULAR BAG LUNCH SERIES TO RESUME IN SEPTEMBER

The Center's 1987-1988 bag lunch lecture series will be held on Wednesdays at noon in 442 Stephens Hall, located one floor above the Center office.

The series offers a program of informal talks and discussions on a variety of topics. Bring your own lunch (coffee and cookies are provided), and invite a friend to join you for these lively and interesting presentations. We have also reserved 442 Stephens from 4:00-6:00 on Tuesdays for our Visiting Lecturers program: dates and topics to be announced.

FALL SEMESTER SCHOLARS IN RESIDENCE

GALIA DIMENT, Ph.D. in Comparative Literature/Russian and East European Linguistics, Claremont Graduate School (1978), will be a Lecturer in the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures during the 1987-88 academic year. In the Fall semester she will offer three courses in Russian language: Slavic 13 (Beginning Russian Conversation); Slavic 102 (Readings in Specialized Russian); and Slavic 103A-B (Advanced Russian).

MICHAEL GELB, who completed his Ph.D. this year in History at the University of California, Los Angeles, will be one of two Mellon Post-Doctoral Fellows sponsored by the Center for 1987-88. During his stay at Berkeley, Dr. Gelb will be preparing two articles and a book-length manuscript in connection with his dissertation, "Mass Politics Under Stalin: The Party Purges and Labor Productivity Campaigns in Leningrad Industrial Enterprises, 1928-1941."

ALEXANDER GOLITZIN, M.Div., St. Vladimir's Theological Seminary (1973), and D.Phil., Oxford University (1981), will be visiting Professor in the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures for Fall semester 1987. He will teach an undergraduate course, Slavic 131 (The Eastern Orthodox World), an introduction to Eastern Christianity through a survey of its history and culture. An expanded course description can be found in this issue.

ATTILA HARMATHY, Deputy Director, Institute for Legal and Administrative Sciences, Hungarian Academy of Sciences, will be a Visiting Professor in the School of Law in the Spring semester of 1988. He will be co-teaching a new seminar on socialist enterprise law with Professor Richard Buxbaum of the School of Law.

JONATHAN HASLAM, Ph.D., University of Birmingham and Fellow, Royal Historical Society, will be a Visiting Research Scholar with the Berkeley-Stanford Program on Soviet International Behavior during 1987-88. He will also be a Visiting Professor in the Political Science Department. Professor Haslam is completing a volume on Soviet Far Eastern policy from 1933 to 1941 and starting a new project on Soviet policy toward Japan since World War II.

CELIA HAWKESWORTH, M.Phil. in Serbo-Croatian, University of London (1968), will be a Visiting Professor in the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures in the Fall semester. She will offer courses in Serbo-Croatian language and Yugoslav literature, including Slavic 172, "Topics in Serbo-Croatian" (Contemporary Yugoslav Literature).

LIZA KNAPP, Ph.D., Columbia University (1985), will be one of two Center-sponsored Mellon Post-Doctoral Fellows for 1987-88. Dr. Knapp will be rewriting and expanding her dissertation, "Dostoevsky and the Annihilation of Inertia: The Metaphysics of Physics in His Works." She will also be offering a course at Stanford in the Fall quarter, "Russian Literature in English Translation I: The Age of Experimentation."

FELLOWSHIPS AND GRANTS REMINDER

The American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS) supports research with a humanistic emphasis in fields such as economics, political science and geography. The Sponsored Projects Office (SPO) has their program brochure, or contact: ACLS: 228 East 45th St., NY NY 10017-3398. Deadlines range from SEPTEMBER 30, 1987 to APRIL 1, 1988.

(Continued on P. 5)

EIGHTH INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON SOVIET AND EAST EUROPEAN AGRICULTURE

By Sonja Grueter

The Eighth International Conference on Soviet and East European Agriculture was held at UC Berkeley on August 7-10, 1987. Supported by a grant from the Ford Foundation, the Conference provided a forum for scholars in the field to exchange views and findings on the present state and prospects of agriculture in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe. The conference was organized in part by Center-affiliated professor Gregory Grossman (Econ); participants included senior specialists and university faculty from all over the United States, Europe, and Australia, as well as graduate students from UC Berkeley and UC Davis.

The four-day program included eleven panels. Topics ranged from the impact of Gorbachev's reforms on Soviet agriculture to agricultural reform in non-European socialist countries such as China, Vietnam, and Cuba. Presentations on East European agriculture focused on comparisons of systems, policies, and production in the various countries. The discussions often departed from the economic to encompass the political nature of agriculture policy in socialist countries: agriculture and martial law in Poland, for example, or the role of Soviet local party authorities in innovation.

The panels were lively, and the diverse backgrounds of the participants ensured a great deal of controversy on most of the issues. A central question addressed by the Conference was whether there is a movement away from collectivization in the centrally planned system and, if so, in what direction is it headed? It was generally agreed that there are indications of a guarded movement away from collectivization toward involvement by the private sector. It remains to be seen whether transition on a larger scale will be fully endorsed by the governments of the Soviet Union and East European countries. East European governments in particular appear to be watching Soviet policies closely in an attempt to gauge their longevity and effectiveness.

The Fulbright Scholar Program With the German Democratic Republic is offering research and lectureship awards for 1988-89. For information and application forms, call Paul Hiemstra or Sheri Furlott at (202) 939-5418. Application deadline: SEPTEMBER 15, 1987.

The National Council for Soviet and East European Research encourages research on the social, political, economic and historical development of the U.S.S.R. and Eastern Europe. SPO has guidelines, or contact the council at: 1755 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036. Application deadline: NOVEMBER 1, 1987

The International Research and Exchanges Board (IREX) has several upcoming deadlines. NOTE: The program "Grants for Independent Short-Term Travel" has been re-activated. Deadline: OCTOBER 1, 1987.
Research Exchanges With the U.S.S.R. for 1988-89: Deadline: NOVEMBER 1, 1987.
East European Research Exchanges for 1988-89: Deadline: NOVEMBER 1, 1987.
Fellowship for Language Training in Eastern Europe and the U.S.S.R.: Deadline: OCTOBER 15, 1987.
Grants for Collaborative Activities and New Exchanges: Deadline: OCTOBER 15, 1987.
Travel Grants for Senior Scholars: Deadline: OCTOBER 15, 1987.

The Wilson Center/European Institute has forms for its East European program; applications with letters of reference are due by: OCTOBER 1, 1987.

IMPROVED SERVICE FROM RICHMOND STORAGE:

The Library now provides speedier service in the retrieval of books and serials from the Northern Regional Library Facility (Richmond storage). Requests submitted at the Circulation Desk are available for pick-up the following day after 4 pm.

RECENT ACQUISITIONS:

Directory of Libraries and Information Centers of the Academies of Sciences of Socialist Countries. Moscow: General Editorial Board for Foreign Publications, Nauka Publishers, 1986. (Z675.R45 B5213 1986 Ref/Bibl)

East European Economic Handbook. London: Euromonitor Publications Ltd., 1985 [excludes U.S.S.R., Albania, and Greece]. (HC244.E215 1985 Ref/Bibl)

Ukazateli sodержaniia russkikh dorevoliutsionnykh gazet: bibliograficheskii ukazatel'. Sost. S.A. Kuz'min, M.A. Tarasov, G.N. Iakovlev, Otv. red. M.I. Fundaminskii. Leningrad: Biblioteka AN SSSR, 1986. (In process)

Wynar, Lubomyr R. Guide to the American Ethnic Press: Slavic and East European Newspapers and Periodicals. Kent, Ohio: Center for the Study of Ethnic Publications, School of Library Science, Kent State University, 1986. (PN4885.S45.A12.W961 1986 Ref/Bibl in Periodical and Newspaper Reference Section)

Also for those of you keeping tabs on "glasnost'," Anatolii Rybakov's novel Deti Arbata has begun its serialization in the April issue of the periodical Druzhby narodov. (Available in the Periodical Room of the Main [DOE] Library).

A GUIDE TO THE CENTER

Center for Slavic and East European Studies (CSEES)

Center Assistants:

| | | |
|--|----------|----------|
| Ms. Sonja Grueter | 642-3230 | Room 361 |
| Ms. Jill Goldsmith | 642-3230 | Room 361 |
| Chair: Professor George W. Breslauer | 642-3290 | Room 361 |
| Executive Director: Dr. Jack Kollmann | 643-6736 | Room 364 |
| Associate Specialist: Dr. Elizabeth Shepard | 642-5245 | Room 368 |
| Administrative Assistant: Mrs. Vail Palomino | 642-6270 | Room 361 |
| Editorial Assistant: Ms. Anne Hawkins | 642-9107 | Room 366 |

Berkeley-Stanford Program on Soviet International Behavior

| | | |
|--|----------|----------|
| Program Assistant: Sonja Grueter | | |
| Chair: Professor Gail W. Lapidus | 643-6737 | Room 370 |
| Executive Director: Dr. Richard Remnek | 642-6168 | Room 361 |

AREA-RELATED COURSES, UC BERKELEY: FALL SEMESTER 1987

Anthropology

225 European and Near Eastern Pre-History

Tringham

W 2-4

2251 College Rm. 100 (4)

Economics

161 Economic Systems

Ward

TuTu 8-9:30

101 Wurster (3)

260B Economic Systems

Ward

Th 4-6

104 Barrows (3)

Geography

162 Soviet Union

Hooson

TuTh 8-9:30

525 ESB (3)

189 History of Geographical Thought

Hooson

TuTh 11-12:30

525 ESB (3)

History

5 Modern European History

Slotzman

MW 9-10

Wheeler Aud. (4)

101 American Foreign Policy, 1898-1980

Fogelsong

WF 9-10:30

415 Warren (5)

103B Intro. to Historiog. of Marxism

Malia

Th 4-6

3104 Dwinelle (4)

103B History of Soviet Foreign Policy

McDougall

Tu 2-4

3104 Dwinelle (4)

130B 20th-Century Pax Americana

Clemens

TuTh 11-12:30

2003 LSB (4)

171A Russia to Peter the Great

Riasanovsky

MF 10-11

126 Barrows (4)

171B History of Russia: Peter the Great-1914

Zelnik

TuTh 11-12:30

277 Cory (4)

275B Core Course in the Lit. of Eur. History

Riasanovsky

M 2-4

3311 Dwinelle (4)

283 Historical Method and Theory

Malia

Tu 4-6

3104 Dwinelle (4)

285B Russia, 1855-1917

Zelnik

Th 2-4

3104 Dwinelle (4)

Music

222 Seminar in Russian Music

Taruskin

M 9-12

242 Morrison (4)

Political Science

129A Soviet Foreign Policy

Haslam

MF 12-1

159 Mulford (4)

141A Soviet Politics

Lapidus

TuTh 9:30-11

120 Latimer (4)

200 Major Themes in Comparative Analysis

Jowitt

W 10-12

791 Barrows (4)

Languages offered: Bulgarian, Czech, Hungarian, Polish, Russian, Serbo-Croatian

Please consult the Department's listing for full details. The Slavic Department is located at 5416 Dwinelle Hall, tel. 642-2979. A broad range of courses in Slavic linguistics and literatures is also offered. Some fall semester courses of general interest are: 19th-Century Russian Literature (Sl. 45), The Eastern Orthodox World (Sl. 131), Gogol (Sl. 134A), and Dostoevsky (Sl. 134C).

Sociology

| | | | | | | |
|------|-------------------------------------|---------|----------|-----|-------|-----|
| 181 | Soviet Society | Bonnell | MTW 12-1 | 60 | Evans | (3) |
| 272C | Comparative and Historical Research | Bonnell | TBA | TBA | | (3) |

AREA-RELATED COURSES, STANFORD UNIVERSITY: FALL QUARTER 1987

History

24 Russian Civilization: Shaping of Culture and Society: 9th - 17th Centuries Kollmann

323A Graduate Colloquium: Topics in Russian Hist. Emmons

Law

389 Law in Socialist Countries Foster-Simons

Political Science

126 Seminar: Politics in Eastern Europe Triska

133R U.S. & Soviet National Security Policies Blacker

136 Soviet Foreign Policy Griffiths

242C Graduate Seminar: Soviet Foreign Policy Griffiths

Slavic Languages and Literatures

145 Russian Literature in English Translation Knapp

189 Old Russian Literature Todd

200 Proseminar Freidin

211 Introduction to Old Church Slavic van Campen

245 Russian Literature in English Translation Knapp

Language Courses: Russian in Slavic Dept.; Czech, Hungarian, Polish, Serbo-Croatian in Linguistics Dept.

Center For Slavic and East European Studies

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Mon - Fri
Dwinelle
NOON

SOVIET TV: The Slavic Center screens the previous evening's Soviet newscast "Vremia" daily in B-4 Dwinelle, located in the basement language lab area.

Pacific Film Archive
University Art Museum
2625 Durant Avenue
642-1412

Five Soviet films directed by Tengiz Abuladze will be shown September 8-12; see this issue for more information on the series. Mr. Abuladze will speak following the screening of REPENTANCE on September 9.

Tues Sept 8
PFA
7:30

FILMS: MAGDANA'S DONKEY (Lurdzha Magdana) (1955, 67 min.), in Georgian with English titles; and ILLIKO, ILLARION, GRANDMOTHER AND ME (Ya, Babushka, Illiko i Illarion), (1963, 90 mins.), in Georgian with English titles.

Wed Sept 9
442 Stephens
NOON
to

BAG LUNCH: Professor Jonathan Haslam, Visiting Research Scholar, BSPSIB, and Visiting Professor, Department of Political Science, will speak on "An Historical Approach to the Study of Soviet Foreign Policy."

Wed Sept 9
Wheeler Aud
7:30

FILM: REPENTANCE (Pokayanie) (1984/1987, 150 mins., color), English titles. Mr. Abuladze will be present.

Fri Sept 11
PFA
7:30, 9:05

FILM: MOLBA (The Prayer) (1968, 80 mins.), in Georgian with English titles. Two showings.

Sat Sept 12
PFA
7:30, 9:30

FILM: THE WISHING TREE (Drevo zhelanija) (1977, 108 mins., color), English titles. Two showings.

Fri Sept 25
Alumni House
3:30-5:00

RECEPTION: The Center's annual reception. Everyone is welcome and encouraged to attend. Meet new students and faculty; learn about Center programs. Refreshments will be served.

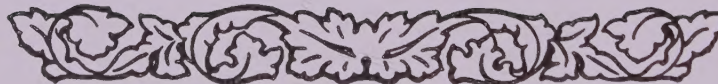

NOTE: Recent UCB participants in IREX will comment on and answer questions about their experiences at a bag lunch meeting in October; date to be announced. IREX scholars who would like to take part in the discussion, please contact the Center.

INTRODUCTION TO THE EASTERN ORTHODOX WORLD

Father Alexander Golitzin will again be a Visiting Professor in the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures during Fall semester, 1987. Father Golitzin, M. Div., St. Vladimir's Theological Seminary and D. Phil., Oxford University, will teach an undergraduate lecture course, "The Eastern Orthodox World" (Slavic 131, T-Th 12:30-2:00, 215 Dwinelle).

The course provides an introduction to the religious tradition of Eastern Christianity through a survey of its history and culture in the core areas of its cultural sphere: Russia, The Balkans, and the Middle East. Special attention will be given to Orthodox spirituality and theology, and to comparisons between the thought and institutions of Eastern and Western Christianity.

Center for Slavic and East European Studies
- Stephens Hall
University of California
Berkeley, CA 94720
03

GET ACQUAINTED

At the Slavic Center Reception

Set aside the late afternoon hours of September 25 for the annual Slavic Center Reception, to be held this year in the Alumni House lounge.

The reception provides a great opportunity to get acquainted, and to familiarize yourself with Center programs. All friends of the Center, from both on and off campus, are cordially invited to attend. The Chair of the Center, Professor George W. Breslauer, will introduce faculty, students and staff and will comment briefly on planned activities for the coming year.

Friday, September 25

3:30 - 5:00 pm

Refreshments will be served.
Make a note on your calendar and plan to be there!

Calendar Update

361 Stephens Hall
University of California
Berkeley, CA 94720
642-3230

Mon - Fri
B-4 Dwinelle
NOON

SOVIET TV: The Slavic Center screens the previous evening's newscast "Vremia" daily in B-4 Dwinelle, located in the basement language lab area.

Thurs Oct 15
442 Stephens
3:30 pm

LECTURE: Loren Graham, Professor of Science, Technology and Society at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will speak on "How Gorbachev's Reforms have Affected Soviet Science and Technology." Professor Graham is the author of the seminal work The Soviet Academy of Sciences and the Communist Party, 1927-1932 (Princeton University Press, 1967), and the recently published Science, Philosophy and Human Behavior in the Soviet Union (Columbia University Press, 1987).

Thurs Oct 15
PFA
4:00 pm
FREE EVENT

FILM: PETER THE FIRST, PART I (1937). 1987 marks the 50th anniversary of the release of the Soviet classic film, based on Alexei Tolstoy's historical novel. Directed by V. Petrov, in Russian with English titles. A Russian videocassette of PETER THE FIRST, PARTS I and II may be checked out at the Center.

Fri Oct 16
York Theater
2789 24th St. SF
7:00, 9:30 pm

FILM: BRIEF ENCOUNTERS (Korotkie vstrechi, 1967/1987, 95 mins.), in Russian with English titles. LONG FAREWELLS (Dolgie provody, 1971/1987, 97 mins.); in Russian with English titles. A tribute to the Soviet filmmaker Kira Muratova, presented by PFA in cooperation with California Women in Film and the S.F. Film Festival. Admission is $6 for one film, $8 for both.

Opens Fri Oct 16
Opera Plaza Theater
Van Ness at
Golden Gate, SF

FILM: HEY, BABU RIBA (Bal na vodi, 1986), directed by Jovan Acin, in Serbo-Croatian with English titles. This award-winning Yugoslavian film has been a hit on the international film festival circuit; it has been favorably compared with "American Graffiti" and "The Big Chill." Tickets are $5.50. For information on show times, call 771-0102.

Mon Oct 19
442 Stephens
2:00 pm

LECTURE: Michael Swafford, Associate Professor of Sociology, Vanderbilt University, will speak on "Perceptions of Distributive Justice in the Soviet Union." Professor Swafford has developed ingenious survey methods for interviewing Soviet émigrés and has produced some intriguing analyses of the data from the Soviet Émigré Interview Project. Co-sponsored by the Slavic Center and the Department of Sociology.

Tues Oct 20
120 Latimer
9:30-11:00 am

VIDEO PRESENTATION: Slavic Center Executive Director Jack Kollmann will show videos and discuss "Soviet Television and Glasnost": What's New On Soviet TV" at the Oct. 20 meeting of Professor Gail Lapidus's class, Political Science 141 A: Soviet Politics. Visitors welcome.

Tues Oct 20
PFA
3:45 pm
FREE EVENT

FILM: POTESKIN (1925), silent with Russian intertitles. Eisenstein's classic film will be shown in conjunction with courses. Students have admission preference; it is anticipated that extra seating will be available. The film is also available on videocassette at the center.

Wed Oct 21
442 Stephens
NOON

BAG LUNCH: Allen Kuharski, a doctoral candidate in the Department of Dramatic Art at Berkeley, will report on his recent trips to Poland to attend the 26th Festival of Contemporary Polish Plays in Wroclaw and an international theater symposium in Lublin devoted to "The Nature of the Word in Theatre Cultures." He will speak on "Presences and Absences: Impressions of the Polish Theatre today."

19-20-21 Oct
Flint Center
Cupertino, CA
8:00 pm

BALLET: "The Moscow Ballet"--a touring group of dancers from Soviet companies including the Kirov and the Bol'shoi. Programs will consist of highlights from the classical repertory.

Thurs Oct 22
117 Dwinelle
2:00-3:30 pm

SLIDE LECTURE: Slavic Center Executive Director, Jack Kollmann, will present a slide lecture--"Images of St. Petersburg: Architecture"--in Professor Robert Hughes's freshman/sophomore seminar, Slavic 38: The Image of St. Petersburg in Russian culture. Visitors welcome.

Fri Oct 23
Twin Lakes Baptist
Church, Aptos
8:00 pm

CONCERT: The Cabrillo Slavonic Chorus performs Rachmaninov's "The Liturgy of St. John Chrysostom." A fundraiser for their forthcoming tour of the USSR. There will be a reception following the concert. Tickets: $8 general, $12 preferred seating.

Sat Oct 24
San Jose Center For the Performing Arts
8:00 pm

CONCERT: The Cabrillo Slavonic Chorus performs Rachmaninov's "The Liturgy of St. John Chrysostom." The concert will also include Russian dancing; a reception will be held following the performance. Tickets (available through Ticketron: $15, $20, and $25. Students/seniors: 20% discount.

Sat Oct 24
Showcase Theater
Marin Center
San Rafael
8:00 pm

CONCERT: The SF Men's Chorus, Slavyanka, will perform Russian and East European music. Admission: $9.75 general, $6.75 seniors/students.

Wed Oct 28
442 Stephens
NOON

BAG LUNCH: Stephen Kotkin, a graduate student in the Department of History, will discuss "Glasnost", Real and Imagined: Six Weeks Behind the Urals." Mr. Kotkin is currently writing his dissertation on "Urbanization in the USSR, 1926-39." He recently returned from a ten-month research visit to the USSR, where he spent six weeks in the working-class town of Magnitogorsk in the Ural Mountain region--probably the first American to visit Magnitogorsk in nearly half a century.

Sat Nov 7
The Gold Room
Fairmont Hotel, SF
7:00 pm

FORMAL BALL: The Polonaise Ball, held annually to raise funds for the Polish Arts and Culture Foundation. By invitation only. Formal evening dress required. To receive an invitation you may call the Foundation at 474-7070, Tu-Fri, from 12:00-7:00 pm.

Mon Nov 9
117 Dwinelle
NOON

BAG LUNCH: Jack Kollmann, Slavic Center Executive Director, will give a slide and video presentation on the recent University of California Alumni trip to the USSR. Itinerary included Moscow, Khabarovsk, the Trans-Siberian Railway to Irkutsk, Lake Baikal, Alma-Ata, Tbilisi, Erevan and Leningrad.

Thurs Nov 12
117 Dwinelle
2:00-3:30 pm

SLIDE LECTURE: Slavic Center Executive Director Jack Kollmann will present a second slide lecture--"Images of St. Petersburg: Art"--in Professor Robert Hughes's freshman/sophomore seminar, Slavic 38: The Image of St. Petersburg In Russian Culture.

AND TWO REMINDERS:

The San Francisco Opera's 1987-88 season will include a production of Tchaikovsky's "The Queen of Spades," featuring the Bulgarian soprano Stefka Evstatieva as Lisa, and Wieslaw Ochman as the tenor lead, Gherman. In Russian with supertitles. Performance dates: November 23, 27 and December 1, 5 at 8:00 pm. December 9 at 7:30 pm. December 13 at 2:00 pm (matinee). For tickets and information call 864-3330.

The application deadline for 1988-89 IREX Research Exchanges With the USSR and East European Research Exchanges is: NOVEMBER 1, 1987. Applications are available at the Center.

Center for Slavic and East European Studies
361 Stephens Hall
University of California
Berkeley, CA 94720
IV 03

FIRST CLASS